

A photograph showing a coiled white cable with a green tie-wrap near its end. The cable is plugged into a small, light-colored rectangular electronic component, likely a sensor or actuator module. The background is plain white.

1224